Pre-Conference Pledge:

Nik Promises Better Times

...Will Try To Find Footing

Washington (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev, just the man who can achieve it if he wants to, promised Friday to strive for better Russian relations with the United States.

The undisputed boss of the Soviet Union, Premier Khrushchev made his pledge as a preliminary to his private conversations this weekend with President Eisenhower.

He said:

"We will do all we can in our talks with the President to the advantage of both sides and on our return we will strive to improve relations."

The remark could have historic significance, or it could be mere window dressing for the busy job of salesmanship Khrushchev has been putting on for Communism in his U.S tour.

For the time being at least, the official U.S. view was that Americans could hope for greater U.S.-Russian understanding as a result of Khrushchev's state visit, unstately though it has been on occasion.

Luncheon Toast

The hopeful attitude was sounded by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who added in a luncheon toast to the Red premier:

"We also hope you will take back with you a good impression of the United States, its people and way of life."

Herter, who has experienced long weeks of weary, fruitless talks with the Russians at Geneva, expressed hope that the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks "will create greater understanding between our countries and thereby serve the larger cause of world peace."

With his champagne glass lifted, Khrushchev declared "I am glad to hear the secretary's remarks and fully agree."

It was then he promised to work for better relations when he reaches home next week, adding:

"We know our people will approve our work here. They greatly desire improvement of relations."

Informal Chat

The premier had an informal talk with newsmen before going into the luncheon.

Standing in front of the Soviet Embassy, and smiling in great good humor, he said he thinks tensions between the United States and his country will be lessened to some extent as a result of his visit.

The first question was a general one—what did he think of his trip through this country? Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov acted as his interpreter and relayed his reply:

"Wonderful."

Then Khrushchev proved he can say something in English other than "yes" and "O.K." He laughed and said: "Very well."

He said he thought the extent by which tensions might be eased could probably be estimated better after the discussions with Eisenhower.

Dodges Query

He dodged, with a chuckle, a question as to what is the biggest difficulty to be overcome. The questioner had in mind such things as divided Germany, the future of Berlin, the fighting in Laos, disarmament and the cold var in general.

"It would be better to ask that question of your President," Khrushchev countered.

It was a smiling face that Khrushchev turned to the world Friday, unlike the scowls he has displayed on some other occasions since he landed here Sept. 15.

But in one way Mr. K remained without change — he still talked about Russia the way Texans used to talk about Texas. This was illustrated by the reply he chose to make to a question as to whether Eisenhower should have the same kind of trip through Russia that he has had through America.

-STEEL-

Foreign Imports Pick Up

New York (AP) — In the port of Wilmington, N.C., a West German freighter, the "Thunderburg", is unloading steel products from Europe. Three vessels are due to arrive Monday with general cargo, including steel.

Wilmington is a relatively small American port, but it is sharing an experience with larger ports: an upturn in imports of foreign steel accelerated by the strike here. A. C. Smith, ports terminal manager in North Carloina, however, says the upturn has been going on for two years.

Far away from Wilmington, in Pretoria, Union of South Africa, the native population feels the impact of pickets surrounding the steel plants in Pittsburgh: for the first time South Africa is exporting steel to the United States, not importing.

In Canberra, Australia, Minister for Trade John McEwen notes that in the fiscal year started July 1 Australia has orders for 40,000 tons of steel. That's very small in comparison with American production, but it's an export record for Australia.

In Tokyo, government officials acknowledge the American steel strike has boosted Japanese steel exports.

TALKS FLOP

Steel talks have collapsed. The complete breakdown heightens the possibility that the Taft-Hartley law may be used by the government to open the strike-bound mills. For full story, see Page 2.

THE PLACE AND THE PEOPLE

Here at Camp David in the historic Catoctin mountains of Maryland, Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and President Dwight D. Eisenhower are conferring on grave cold war problems. The heads of state flew there by helicopter Friday for the weekend talks.

Women 'Can Help Settle' Problems Of The World—Nina Khrushchev Says

Washington (AP) — Mrs. Nina Khrushchev said Friday she'd like to come back to the United States again and she believes cultural exchange visits "make for better understanding, better knowledge of one another."

"Contacts between women," she added, "would be equally conducive to solution of problems of the world."

Sometimes smiling and sometimes serious, Mrs. Khrushchev handled her very first news conference with apparent ease.

She acknowledged she was worried about it. And at the start she smilingly called Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, wife of the U.S. Ambassador to the U.N., and Mrs. Llewellyn Thompson, wife of the American Ambassador to Russia, to sit beside her.

No Defense Needed

Both women have been traveling with Mrs. Khrushchev across country. "If you attack me too much, they'll defend me," she said with a smile. But she needed no defense as she answered a wide range of questions about herself and her country.

Mrs. K said she doesn't like housework—which drew applause from the 20 newspaperwomen, some of whom came from as far away as London.

Farm matters, political economy and topics of interest to her husband seemed mostly to interest Mrs. Khrushchev.

She and Khrushchev met, she said, while she was teaching political economy in a government school for adults at Stalino. The future premier went there to study to be a mining engineer.

Troubles Home?

Asked if Khrushchev brings official problems home, or leaves them at the office, she shook her head and said: "No, he simply discusses those problems with people he should discuss them with."

Mrs. Khrushchev answered every question put to her. She was never flustered nor at a loss.

She told the newswomen at the start that she didn't intend to go into any matters of Soviet policy.

She showed herself to be quick-witted and with a sense of humor.

Although she speaks some English, Mrs. Khrushchev spoke to the newswomen in Russian, and used an interpreter.

She said she had wanted to see some of this country's large department stores, but recalled the uproar when Khrushchev went to a San Francisco supermarket and it was left a wreck because of the crush of people.

In Movies

"I suppose I'll have to see them in the movies," she said with a smile.

Mrs. Khrushchev ended the news conference, just in time to rush out on the porch to say goodbye to her husband who left to fly with President Eisenhower by helicopter to Camp David for their important talks.

She'll stay in Washington over the weekend and was invited to dine Friday night at the home of Mrs. Christian Herter, wife of the secretary of state.

Contacts between women of Russia and the United States would be "especially conducive to solution of problems of the world," Mrs. Khrushchev told her questioners.

Foreign ministers argue much of the time, she said, and in some areas women could more easily reach agreements among themselves.

Much Better

Asked to explain, Mrs. Khrushchev noted the work being done in children's affairs in the United Nations, and declared "these questions of children will be resolved much better with women meeting than men."

Should she and Mrs. Eisenhower be meeting this weekend instead of their husbands? A reporter asked jokingly.

Shaking her head with a tiny smile, Mrs. Khrushchev said "after all less depends on us."

AL CAPONE HENCHMAN FOUND SLAIN

New York (AP)—The body of a man tentatively identified by police as "Little Augie" Pisano, once a top henchman of Al Capone and a notorious underworld figure, was found in a swanky car on a Queens Street Friday night. A young blonde woman's body was beside him. Both had been shot to death.

Police said the woman was wearing a mink stole. She had been shot in the back of the neck. The man had been shot in the temple and in the neck.

Pisano, also known as Anthony Carfano, was described as a close friend of racketeer Frank Costello for 20 years, a former "vice regent" for Capone and a well-known racketeer and hoodlum in the East, especially in the New York area and Florida. His home was listed as Long Beach, N. Y., on Long Island.

IT'S WAR AGAIN FOR GAS MEN

Gasoline prices at independent stations in and around Lincoln dropped another penny a gallon Friday as retailers continued their 5th gas war of the year.

Major oil company stations were selling regular gas for 29.9 cents a gallon and ethyl for 31.9 cents. Independents dropped their prices to 26.9 for regular and 28.9 for premium.

Many stations, although cutting their prices in response to the war, did not even bother to advertise the cut with "bargain" posters.

Ike And Khrush Waste No Time

U.S. And Soviet Leaders Launch Momentous Experiment In Personal Diplomacy

By John Scali

Gettysburg, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Russia's Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev met face to face for hours Friday night to explore prospects for easing the jangled nerves of a tension-weary world.

The opening meeting was limited primarily to a general discussion of the world situation. This, however, gave them the opportunity to touch on such things as the fate of divided Berlin to the future of Soviet-American relations.

The talks got under way with a White House reminder that Eisenhower, however, would avoid negotiating behind the backs of U.S. allies on problems involving them.

The leaders of the world's two most powerful nations began their conference within 10 minutes after they flew together by helicopter from Washington to Eisenhower's mountain retreat at Camp David, Md., some 25 miles from here.

Their eagerly awaited conference began shortly after 6 p.m. on the glass-walled sun porch of Eisenhower's cabin.

Top Advisers on Hand

Later, they resumed their talks around a dinner table, with top advisers, in the red oak paneled living-dining room.

Armed Marines patrolled the secluded forest area, backed by American and Soviet security agents, to insure maximum secrecy.

A White House spokesman hinted the two men might, at least, wind up with some limited Soviet-American agreement on cultural exchanges and atomic energy co-operation by the time the meeting ends Sunday afternoon.

But, White House press Secretary James Hagerty gave no clue as to whether the two men could crack the bedrock of bitter disputes now dividing East and West. To reassure Britain, France and other allies, Hagerty stressed that Eisenhower did not intend to negotiate behind their backs, in keeping with pledges he has made repeatedly.

Hagerty told newsmen they would get no word Friday night on when the night's talk ended. He promised to meet newsmen at 1 p.m. (EDT) Saturday to fill them in on details.

Eisenhower and Khrushchev began their long-awaited meeting in a jovial mood. Their helicopter trip, direct from the White House lawn, took 35 minutes.

Laughingly they posed for photographers, then strolled into the main "Aspen" lodge.

Soviet-American problems due to come up included Russia's desire for more trade with this country and a possible agreement to exchange information on peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Lower ranking U.S. and Russian aides were understood to have outlined the main points of an atomic energy agreement in closed door talks in Washington. Informed authorities said this would be looked over by Eisenhower and Khrushchev for final approval.

Flanked By Aides

Flanking Khrushchev at the first talks—scheduled to run through Sunday noon—were Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov and A. A. Soldatov, chief of the Foreign Office American desk.

Eisenhower was assisted by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Llewellyn E. Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, and Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to the United Nations. Lodge escorted Khrushchev during the premier's tour around the United States.

A movie of the atomic submarine Nautilus' historic trip under the North Polar icecap was shown after dinner — at Khrushchev's request.

The film has been specially dubbed in Russian for the showing.

Eisenhower and Khrushchev and their foreign policy chiefs planned to spend the night in the same lodge where their talks began. Each is to have one of the 4 bedrooms.

International Crisis If Nik Wakes Up?

Camp David, Md. (UPI)—What happens in the middle of the night if Premier Khrushchev wakes up in President Eisenhower's cottage and wants something? There's not an interpreter in the house.

Khrushchev would have to get out of bed, pad across the hall and knock on the door of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko who can speak English.

The American and Russian interpreters are sleeping in other cottages at the camp and Gromyko will have to serve double duty when they're not around.

FULL GAME LEAD TO LA

The Los Angeles Dodgers moved a full game out in front of the Milwaukee Braves in the tight National League pennant race Friday by grabbing an 11-inning, 5-4 victory over Chicago. The Braves lost to Philadelphia, 6-3. San Francisco, now 2½ games back, was rained out. See Sports Page 13.

Senators Eye Tourist Boon

...Tab 4 Subjects For Study

By Betty Person

The business of promoting tourist trade for Nebraska was earmarked as the prime subject for study Friday by the Legislative Council Committee on Outdoor Recreation.

The 7-member committee, which held its organizational meeting Friday, outlined 4 areas of general study.

Others were a study of the use being made of Ft. Robinson in northwest Nebraska with a view to expanding its facilities; a study of advertising controls along the Interstate Highway, and a general study of all phases of outdoor recreation and fish and game.

November Meet

The committee scheduled its next meeting Nov. 13 when it will invite representatives of the University of Nebraska, State Game Commission and the U.S. Department of Agriculture to explain some problems connected with Ft. Robinson.

The Game Commission, it was reported, is interested in expanding recreation facilities in that area, but is opposed by the University because of possible interference it might bring to a beef experimental program being conducted there.

The groups will be asked to explain what solutions they have found to the problem.

The committee will hold a two-day public hearing, probably early next year, to cover other matters which will be under study.

Visits to Wisconsin, Minnesota and South Dakota are contemplated to learn how those states operate to attract tourists.

Learn Much

It was the committee's belief that much could be learned to help Nebraska in its stepped-up program for tourist attraction.

The committee will visit Cowles Lake near Omaha prior to the Nov. 13 meeting to view work being done by the Game Commission to build this as a recreation area.

Visits to Ft. Robinson and Chadron State Park also will be made, probably next spring.

Game Commission Director Mel Steen had sent each member of the committee a letter outlining things he believes are needed to improve the state's recreational and outdoor sports activities, but the committee did not discuss the letter.

Steen called for an increase in the present special levy of .13 of a mill to .35 of a mill to properly promote tourist trade, historical sites and improve state parks and recreation areas.

Sen. George Syas of Omaha is chairman of the study committee, and Sen. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud is vice chairman. Other members are Sens. Stan Portsche of Lincoln, William Moulton of Omaha, H. K. Diers of Gresham, William Skarda of Omaha, and Earl Hollenbeck of Long Pine.

Amateur Salvagers Float Ship After Pros Nix Job

Norfolk, Va. (AP)—Eight wildcat salvagers rode the rusty hulk of an abandoned ship down the Atlantic Coast Friday, in hopes the 400-foot stern section would be their key to riches.

They kept an anxious eye to the south where hurricane Gracie crept along. The storm was a possible threat to their hard work of the past 6 months.

The hulk is one section of the tanker African Queen, which wrecked off Ocean City, Md., last December. The vessel struck a shoal and broke in two. The bow has since floated away. Owners of the vessel abandoned her.

Snail's Pace

A Norfolk tug pulled the hulk along at a snail's pace, while the Coast Guard Cutter Marion provided escort. The amateur salvagers staked out their claim to the vessel after professional salvagers wouldn't touch it.

They plan to bring the Queen 110 miles to the Norfolk Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. where they hope to sell her for about 2 to 3 million dollars to persons interested in replacing her bow.

They left Ocean City Thursday and Friday were about 50 nautical miles north of Cape Charles, Va., the entrance to the Chesapeake Bay.

The men, all from Tidewater, Virginia, raised the stern from the bottom after patching holes with monstrous sheets of metal and pumping air into her tanks.

73-Day Steel Strike Talks Collapse

Taft-Hartley Intervention Now Possible

By Arthur Everett

New York (AP) — Fruitless negotiations in the nation's 73-day steel strike collapsed completely Friday. The breakdown heightened the possibility of Taft-Hartley Law intervention by the government to open the struck mills.

Finnegan

The striking United Steelworkers Union said it saw no point in continuing the talks as long as industry insists on work regulating concessions. The union says these are aimed at "union busting."

"We are going home," announced union President David J. McDonald. "This farcical filibuster . . . has ended."

He added that the union stands ready to resume talks if it receives from industry "an honest offer worthy of consideration by self-respecting steel workrs."

Won't Ignore Request

McDonald was asked if the union would resume talks if the government requests it. He replied:

"We have never resisted a call of our government. But we see no sense in coming back to New York City. The seat of the government is in Washington. The seat of the steel industry is in Pittsburgh."

Chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper said the industry still is prepared to resume negotiations Monday and added in a statement:

"We hope that the union will reconsider its position and join with us then in a renewed effort to break the deadlock. This has been our agreed seat of negotiations . . ."

Chief Federal Mediator Joseph F. Finnegan said:

"We don't intend to let this thing drift, in view of its impact on 600,000 souls and its impact on the national economy. The right to set the time and place of meetings is a function of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service."

Finnegan indicated there might be a change of locale when talks resume—presumably to Washington.

Thousands Idled

More than 500,000 steelworkers, plus tens of thousands of workers in related industries, have been made idle since the strike began July 14. The union is seeking unspecified wage increases which the industry claims would be inflationary.

The steel strike apparently is beginning to affect the huge auto industry. In Detroit during the day, Ward's Automotive Reports blamed the strike for a 20% September decline in auto sales.

The breakdown in negotiations in this final week of September heightened the possibility of Taft-Hartley Law intervention by the White House.

Invoking the labor act would bring about an 80-day resumption of work for fact-finding and cooling off. But it would not prevent a renewal of the strike at the end of that time.

POLIO CASES ON UPSURGE

Washington (AP)—An upsurge in the number of paralytic polio cases last week was reported by the Public Health Service after a two-week decline.

Cases for the week ending Sept. 19 totaled 326, compared with 291 and 273 respectively in the first two weeks of September. Last week's figure, second only to the 330 in the week ended Aug. 29, pushed the total so far this year to 3,407. This is more than twice the 1,618 paralytic cases reported up to this time last year. It also exceeds the 3,140 total for the entire year of 1958.

The total of all kinds of polio cases reported last week was 515, compared with 431 in the corresponding week of 1958.

Much of last week's increase in paralytic cases was accounted for by 5 states: California and New York with 26 each, Washington with 24, Minnesota with 23 and North Carolina with 19.

Preliminary estimates, based on a 10% sample, indicate there were 150 polio deaths through July 31 this year, compared with an estimated 10 deaths in the similar 1958 period. Last year's total death toll from polio is now estimated at 240.

French Walk Out

. . . Of U.N. Assembly

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—France walked out of the U.N. General Assembly Friday in protest against charges by Saudi Arabia's chief delegate that the French army in Algeria were torturers thirsting for blood.

But members of the French delegation returned at the conclusion of a vitriolic speech by Ahmad Shukairy, 51-year-old Palestinian Arab who at one time represented Syria at the United Nations.

A spokesman for the delegation said its members did not want to listen to insulting language.

Shukairy referred to the statement by French President de Gaulle offering self-determination to the Algerian people provided peace is restored. De Gaulle said Algeria would be considered at peace if no more than 200 violent deaths occurred in a year.

"What sort of dead mathematics brought about this figure of the dead" Shukairy demanded.

"We know there are some bloodthirsty colons (French colonists) who are ready to step up the maximum figure of President de Gaulle. We know such thirst for blood is to be found in the French army—as evidenced by the most brutal acts of torture committed against the people of Algeria."

Victor A. Belaunde of Peru, 75-year-old Assembly president, interrupted Shukairy and asked him not to use language "that might disturb the atmosphere of the Assembly.'"

Shukairy replied that he believed freedom of speech was guaranteed at the United Nations, then went on with his prepared text.

Nebraska Gets 319 New Laws

. . . Effective Sunday

By Betty Person

As of midnight Sunday, Nebraskans are going to have 319 new laws which will govern their lives—laws which will be in effect at least until the Legislature convenes again.

The new laws, or law changes, are those passed by the 1959 Legislature which did not carry the emergency clause and thus do not go into effect until three months after the end of the session.

A total of 148 laws passed in the last session had the emergency clause attached and became effective immediately upon signature of the governor.

A total of 327 bills passed did not carry the emergency clause, but 8 of those are proposed constitutinal amendments to be voted upon in the 1960 general election, and their effective date remains to be determined.

Specific Dates

A few of the new laws also contain specific dates for their effectiveness which is beyond the Sept. 28 deadline, but the machinery for their becoming law is set in motion.

Most of the far-reaching tax bills passed in the 1959 session carried the emergency clause, but two other measures which will affect the lives of most Nebraskans are credit measures which come into force Monday.

One of these is the law which prescribes conditions for revolving charge accounts and the other is the time sales act which will govern those larger purchases which Nebraskans will pay for on the installment plan.

Small businesses will find it easier to provide group insurance for their employes with the minimum number of persons needed for such group plans reduced from 10 to 5.

Insurance

Also in the insurance field, the minimums have jumped in the state's Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Act, with the new law requiring liability of not less than $10,000 (rather than $5,000) for injury or death of one person; $20,000 (rather than $10,000) for injury or death of two or more persons, and $5,000 (rather than $1,000) for property damage.

Child maintenance payments will now go up $10, and increases also will be effective in monthly welfare payments for dependent children.

The maximum benefits for workmen's compensation will go from $34 to $37 a week.

Persons who file claims against the state of $250 or less will be able to collect those claims without waiting for legislative approval if they are approved by the Sundry Claims Board.

Pen Change

Penitentiary prisoners who are released will find $30 in their pockets, rather than the $20 heretofore given them. Another break for prisoners is the increase from $3 to $6 a day which will be credited to those who serve out their fines and costs by imprisonment.

The State Safety Patrol will be authorized to start checking motor vehicles for their mechanical efficiency on Monday.

And motorists would do well to remember a new law which requires them to slow down to 25 m.p.h. when meeting or overtaking school buses, and to stop when the bus' signal arm is extended.

Speed Laws

New speed laws are in effect for those same school buses which limit them to 55 miles daytime, and 50 at night on hard-surfaced roads, and to 50 and 45 on gravel roads.

Speaking of roads, that long, hard-fought battle by persons in the Rushville area to get their Smith Lake road back on the state highway system will become a reality on Monday.

Courts over the state now will be authorized to close on Saturdays, and in the field of conservation, the machinery is now established for the creation of ground water districts.

Snark ICBM Explodes In Launching Try

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—A Snark guided missile crashed Friday night, ending another bad day for rocketry at the cape.

The 69-foot intercontinental range Snark streaked from its pad and within seconds nose-dived into the ground. Burning fuel immediately consumed the missile in a brief but spectacular fire. No one was hurt.

Earlier Friday, the Air Force called off an attempt to send a missile across the path of the Explorer VI "Paddle-wheel" satellite and the Navy abandoned to the sea a camera-carrying nose cone that may hold the first pictures of a complete hurricane.

The Nike-Cajun rocket that boosted the camera nose cone went slightly off course, making recovery of the cone more difficult.

Soviet Press Prints Cartoon Of Khrushchev

. . . First In History

Moscow (AP)—For the first time in history, the Soviet press published a cartoon of Premier Khrushchev.

This event dramatized the spectacular change in Soviet reporting brought about by Khrushchev's trip to the United States.

There never was a cartoon of Stalin or any other Soviet premier. Pravda officials confirmed this as a first.

This one, printed in the Communist party organ, was reprinted from the Hungarian newspaper Nepszabadsag. In evident reference to burying references which have been plaguing Khrushchev's trip—especially with Mayor Poulson of Los Angeles—it showed him with a spade about to dig a grave.

Looking on were Eisenhower and some unidentified figures.

The caption said: "Gentlemen, we have some public works to get done. Let's bury the hatchet together."

Ever since Khrushchev has been in America, papers here—beside printing full texts of all his speeches—have been giving revealing and interesting facets of his daily life in the strange world of capitalism.

There are frequent references to his wife, whose existence was never mentioned in the Soviet press previously.

16 Are Dead In Alaska Crash

Anchorage, Alaska (AP) — Sixteen persons died when a commercial airliner flying over the wild, rugged Aleution Islands smashed into a mountainside and burst into flames.

A search party worked its way up to the 2,000-foot level on the side of an unnamed 5,000-foot peak of Great Sitkin Island and reported there were no survivors in the wreckage of the Reeve Aleutian Airways DC4.

Navy pilot who first spotted the wreckage said only the tail section of the four-engined airliner was intact. The remainder of the plane was still burning when first sighted.

Dalton Will Appeal Rail Service Halt

Dalton, Neb. (AP)—Attorneys for the community of Dalton say they plan to appeal a Nebraska State Railway Commission ruling that grants the Burlington Railroad permission to suspend operations here.

Dalton residents claim the railroad has made no effort to increase business here and that shipments from here have been increasing, not decreasing.

Ike, Khrush Both Rose From Poor Backgrounds

Washington (UPI) — President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, leaders of the world's two most powerful nations, both rose to their present eminence from boyhoods of poverty.

Both are in their 60's, both like to get up early and both are almost competely bald.

But there the similaries end.

These two men sat down Friday in an effort to reconcile some of the differences between the causes they champion. In their hands, in large measure, lies the future course of history.

Eisenhower, 68, was born to poverty in a house by a railroad track in Denison, Tex., and grew to manhood on a far-from-flourishing farm in Abilene, Kan. But his poverty did not embitter him.

"We were poor, but the glory of our times was that we never knew it," the President said in later years.

Hatred

Khrushchev, 65, also was a poor farm boy, beginning his career as a shepherd before moving on to hard labor in mines and mills. But in contrast with Eisenhower, his whole life has been shaped by the hatred he came to have for the capitalists for whom he toiled.

Khrushchev came up through the ranks of the apparatus that dominates every phase of life in Russia—the Communist party — and emerged as a tough, shrewd radical.

Eisenhower turned to the Army and, molded by its strict discipline, emerged a conservative.

Khrushchev took to politics naturally and so successfully that he came out on top in the cutthroat atmosphere of Russia's Communist party.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon has said the premier would have no trouble winning political office in this country if he weren't a Communist.

Dislikes Party Chores

Eisenhower had to be wooed into politics by a Republican party searching desperately for a man of overwhelming popularity who could end more than a decade of Democratic rule. Even now, after nearly 7 years in the White House, he dislikes strictly political party chores. As a politician Eisenhower steadfastly refuses to deal in personalities.

Khrushchev does so without letup, notably in his scathing denunciations of Stalin, former Premier Georgi Malenkov and other Russians in disgrace.

Never Jokes

Eisenhower bears the presidency with dignity and almost never jokes or jests in public life.

Khrushchev spouts a steady stream of quips, proverbs and rough, peasant-like humor.

Both men have strong tempers. But where Eisenhower keeps his controlled, Khrushchev often explodes.

The only evidence of the President's wrath usually is a surge of color to his cheeks and a curt dismissal of the object of his anger. Khrushchev waves his arms, glowers and trades blow for blow.

Eisenhower seldom uses threats, relies on persuasion to get his way.

Khrushchev is a boaster, a man who flaunts his own and his nation's strength. He says, in effect, to his adversaries, "if I don't get my way, you know the consequences."

BURLINGTON VETERANS' OFFICERS

Lincolnite Heads Burlington Vets

By Gerry Deal

C. A. Pickard of Lincoln was elected president of the Burlington Veterans Assn. for 1960 at the Friday session of the group's last annual meeting being held in Lincoln Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. W. I. Amick of McCook was elected to head the Ladies' Auxiliary for the coming year.

H. W. Kauffman of Council Bluffs, Ia., was elected 1st vice president of the Veterans; L. J. Rajsky of Westmont, Ill., and Charles A. F. Abel of Aurora, Ill., were reelected 2nd vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

Trustees for the coming year are C. T. Gunn of Kansas City, Mo., R. E. Swain of Childress, Tex., and O. E. Kirby of Hannibal, Mo.

Others

Other Auxiliary officers are: Mrs. E. W. Ruffner of Ft. Worth, Tex., 1st vice president; Mrs. W. A. Stewart of Hannibal, Mo., 2nd vice president; and Mrs. Glenn Winship of Casper, Wyo., was reelected secretar-treasurer.

Travelers, who become upset when the train is late, might as well accept the fact that there is nothing that can be done about it even if one is a railroad veteran!

Burlington Conventioneers can vouch for this, because the train carrying members from Kansas City, Mo., was late, resulting in a delayed start in the Friday morning session.

One of the oldest members among the more than 800 attending the convention is F. J. "Cap" Bolshaw of Omaha. The 89-year-old said he missed being a charter member of the organization by "the close of a door."

Meeting Over

He was in Lincoln on business when he heard that the group was being organized that same day in Havelock. By the time he finished his business and boarded a street car for Havelock, the meeting was just over and the door had been closed. However, he has attended practically every convention since then.

A one-time Lincoln Star carrier-salesman, "Cap" recalls Lincoln more than a half-century ago, with no paved streets; the business district was practically all between 11th and 13 Streets on O. He added that when you reached 19th Street going east and G Street south, "you were about out of town."

When asked to what he attributed his long life, with a sparkle in his blue eyes, he replied that it wasn't from not smoking.

"I've smoked cigarets since I was 10 years old," he said.

Seaton Feuds With Senator About Benson

Hornick, Iowa (UPI) — Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton and Sen. Stuart Symington argued here before a 12,000-strong farm audience about Eisenhower administration farm policies.

Seaton and Symington (D-Mo.), often mentioned as a possible candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination, clashed at the Iowa Soil Conservation Field Day and Plowing Match.

Symington challenged Seaton to explain away Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson's "failures."

"It's time the farmer stopped being penalized," Symington said.

Seaton replied Symington's speech showed that the longer the Missouri Democrat talked "the more he proved he didn't know what to do for the farmers."

Symington charged that every time "Congress does pass sound farm bills, Benson has prevailed upon the President to veto them."

Seaton replied that the Democrats controlled Congress and could override a presidential veto.

To Your Health!

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There are reports that the family physician is coming back into prominence on the American scene. This would be a welcome thing in a great many ways, though this change in approach may be a long time materializing. One thing it might do is bring about a greater realization of the importance of good health.

Where To Go?

All of us, of course, actually know that good health is important but we do have too much of a tendency to take it for granted. Part of this reason might be the fact that the age of medical specialists has left us a little befuddled as to the best way to guarantee this health. A look in the phone book for a doctor, for instance, would be enough to scare any reasonably healthy individual away from a routine visit to a physician. There are so many specialists that you wouldn't know where to go. And we suspect that the growing prominence of the specialist has created some unfounded misgivings about the general practitioner.

After all, you might think, when it comes to medical care, you want the best there is. Can you obtain this through a general practitioner? If so, why the flood of specialists? Probably the answer is found in the nature of your sickness and in the public demand for more and better service. Undoubtedly there are cases of such severity and complexity that the attention of the specialist is needed and very worthwhile.

Also, the increase in population and advanced stage of medicine have helped create a situation in which the specialist would naturally flourish. This and the whole attitude of people in general have led to a big demand for physicians and surgeons. Specialization is natural when demand tends to exceed supply.

But none of these things should cause you to doubt the ability and training of the general practitioner. He is a highly capable professional man who, medically speaking, would never be found beyond his capacity in probably 90 per cent of the sick or illness cases on record today. And as a general rule, his fees more closely reflect the nature of your physical difficulty rather than his own personal training and ability. This is important because it could be a part of the public lack of attention to good health.

Some indication of this lack is found in a study by the University of Michigan, reported in the quarterly publication of the University of Denver, Western Business Review. The article involved deals with the general health of business executives and the particular study was made of 368 Michigan faculty members. The purpose of the study was to advance the cause of early diagnosis and treatment of serious illnesses and diseases.

While the results of the study were very revealing, they might not be classed as particularly surprising, unless they would be considered so for the particular subjects involved. The 368 were asked certain facts about their private physicians. The results showed 215 listing a total of 50 different physicians as their family doctors.

Another 29 persons had no personal physician, 24 listed physicians who were not in private practice, 15 put down the name of a pediatrician, five listed physicians in highly specialized fields as their family physicians and six listed medical doctors or doctors of osteopathy in practice in other communities.

New Defects Found

While the great majority of these people reported the services of a regular family doctor, a significant number of them obviously paid little attention to their physical condition. And further results of the study showed that many of those who reported the services of a family doctor probably never availed themselves of this service. For 239 or 81.3 per cent had a total of 465 significant defects not previously known to any of the individuals. There were 387 previously known defects found. Of the 465 newly found defects, 245 were serious enough to require immediate attention.

This isn't intended to send everyone into a big stew over the state of his health. And our layman's point of view on general practitioners and specialists may be irrelevant or even all wet. But good health is mighty important and a little greater appreciation of it might make it a lot more prominent.

Comics Under Study

It is reliably estimated that 90 million Americans read the funnies in the newspaper. That is a sufficient number to warrant a close look at this peculiarly American institution. And one is going to be taken.

The Newspaper Comics Council has given Boston University a substantial sum to finance a study of the current impact of the funnies on American culture. The findings will be interesting.

The comics are one of the later innovations of journalism, less than 70 years old. It is hard to tell just what impulses originated them or what future if any was expected. But the same can be said of jazz or any new art form. It can also be said that a new form is generally looked down on by people who feel they must daily prove they are cultivated. But 90 million readers indicate there is a distinction between readership and reputation. Nevertheless, the newspapers, having sponsored a considerable institution, themselves would like to have some detached body of savants define what they have done.

The Christian Science Monitor, one of the few publications which remains largely unconvinced as to the need or constructiveness of comics, wants some dependable reassurance before it is ready to accept the funnies as a truly native form of art. That, of course is a thoughtful position and not a destructive one. For certainly the comics are a specialized and appealing field and will remain with the American reader. Whether they finally mature into a new and fine form of expression depends upon a better understanding of them as an art.

The forthcoming study, therefore, is one of considerable importance, or will be if its masters are able to give clear direction to the currently groping development of this important branch of journalism.

Cart And The Horse

You can call it cat-and-mouse or wonder if it's a cart-before-the-horse deal, but anyway you look at it, it's hard to figure out why Public Works Director D. L. Erickson doesn't yet know what Lincoln's power rates are to be in the next few years. The new rate schedule from the Nebraska Public Power System, wholesale supplier for the city, has been known since at least Sept. 1.

Erickson, however, states that he is awaiting additional information from NPPS. This may be true but we doubt it. More likely, Erickson is waiting to see what Consumers Public Power District does and then he will do likewise. Not being rate experts or even very good mathematicians, we can't speak authoritatively but we have difficulty understanding how it can take a month to figure out your power bill when you have a rate schedule right in front of you.

Perhaps this is over-simplifying the situation but it looks like that simple a case. Continual hedging by Erickson carries with it certain things which are not to the advantage of the general public. It automatically creates unnecessary suspicion of the city, which is bad. Secondly, Lincoln's city utility, by historic precedence, is not supposed to be following Consumers—although it does so in just about everything.

The purpose of the city utility is to set its rates as its operational costs demand and let the chips fall where they may. If this results in a rate lower than Consumers', let Consumers get its rate down where it belongs. If it results in a higher rate than Consumers', let the city get down where it belongs or look toward getting out of the business.

When Lincoln's rate picture is uncertain, it permits too much manipuation. After all other rate pictures are seen, Lincoln could fix its retail rate to favor whatever line of reasoning best suited the interests of those involved. It might never be done that way but it is a possibility that should not exist, even for Erickson's own benefit. It is no different from the honest bookkeeper who insists upon a regular audit of his accounts. Consumers, we might add, could also be a little more speedy in putting out the facts. At least, the public is entitled to know just how long it has to wait and why for a firm statement on retail electric rates.

Editorial Of The Day

If Peace Breaks Out

From The St Louis Post-Dispatch

Senator Humphrey of Minnesota has announced an investigation of the possible economic dislocations that might result from disarmament. This is a worthwhile task for the Senate Foreign Relations disarmament subcommittee, because cutbacks in defense contracts have already had serious local effects which federal policy might take into account.

Nevertheless, there is something ironical about the notion of the danger of peace. It is a tenet of Marxism, indeed of Premier Khrushchev's, that a capitalist economy cannot stand peaceful competition, and sometimes that citadel of capitalism, the New York stock market, behaves as if it half believes this. Since the Khrushchev visit was announced Aug. 3, stock prices on the average have declined more than 26 billion dollars.

What, then, would happen if peace were not a remote "threat" but actually occurred? How would the economy react if the government did not have to spend more than 40 billion dollars or close to two thirds of its budget on defense?

The over-all economy should withstand peace and take advantage of it to expand. An article reprinted on this page from The Magazine of Wall Street notes that a smaller federal budget and tax cuts would reduce inflationary pressure and invigorate private investment and consumer spending. Some of those defense dollars certainly could be well spent on a vast backlog of needed public projects. In studying these prospects, the Humphrey inquiry ought to help revive the old-fashioned idea that the United States can thrive on peace.

Russia Has Past To Live Down

A Letter from Drew Pearson to his grandson, Drew

Dear Drew:

Your mother tells me that you went out to Disneyland for your birthday. I don't know whether she told you, but on the same day you were there, the head of the Russian government, Mr. Khrushchev, was in Los Angeles and wanted to go to Disneyland but couldn't go. So you were ahead of him.

The reason he could not go was because the Los Angeles police were afraid to have him go. There was a big crowd in Disneyland that Saturday and the police were afraid someone might hurt Mr. Khrushchev.

☆ ☆ ☆

I was in Russia a good many years ago as a young newspaperman. This was shortly after the first world war, and I went up through Siberia to the headquarters of the Russian army at a city called Khabarovsk. One evening I went out to the railroad yards to try to find the head of the Russian army and ask him if I could go with him to Vladivostok where I wanted to take a ship back to Japan.

He let me in and was also quite friendly. His name was Teronim Uborievic.

General Uborievic wanted to know all about America and what we thought of the Russian revolution which had kicked the Czar out. He also cooked me some scrambled eggs on a stove in his car, but he wouldn't let me go with him down to the sea.

The main story now is that some years later General Uborievic was shot.

This habit of killing people is why so many Americans are suspicious and worried about Russia. It's also why the Los Angeles police wouldn't let Mr. Khrushchev go to Disneyland. However, the important fact is that people aren't shot in Russia any more.

☆ ☆ ☆

There have been changes in the Russian government, but the men who have been removed from office are still alive and have other jobs. This is more the way we do things in the United States. We change our government leaders every four years or eight years. But the people who leave government can live perfectly happily and are not shot. It looks as if Russia has now adopted this same system of peaceful change.

The fact that Mr. Khrushchev is over here wanting to understand us better and even wanting to go to Disneyland the way other grandfathers do, to me is a very important step. It's especially important because war has become so terrible these days that we have to work very hard at peace. And if Mr. Khrushchev is willing to work as hard at peace as he is talking about it, then your birthday at Disneyland will mark a great milestone in history. It may start a new understanding between the American and Russian people.

America Has Not Affected Khrushchev

WASHINGTON — The Eisenhower-Khrushchev conversations at Camp David this week end will be strictly private, but 10 days on tour with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev make the nature of the challenge to the American President crystal-clear.

The President can depend on it that in the clinches the Communist dictator is not a gentleman in any sense of the word. He has no use for taste, either good or bad, and he has not a drop of sporting blood in his veins.

This aspect is reinforced by a razor-keen instinct for the jugular and the quick wit to take advantage of every fault of his opponent. All effective politicians are like that to some degree, but Khrushchev leads the class today.

His industry is equally remarkable. He is working for Communism every waking hour; everything reminds him of his central purpose in life, whether it is an ear of corn or a can-can dance or a steel bar.

☆ ☆ ☆

It would be nice to report that such concentration and self-absorption make him a bore, as they easily could. The reverse is true. He has both humor and the theatrical instinct, and they add up to the art of pleasing. Charm is a word more commonly associated with women, but when men of obvious virility possess it, such as Khrushchev, it is hard for men or women to keep up their guard.

There is a strong element of cruelty in much of the Khrushchev humor, but there is all too much evidence that the human race does not find violence necessarily offensive. It is apt to be the ingredient which lends excitement to an occasion.

The case of U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is the prime example of this aspect of the Russian visitor. Named by the President as Khrushchev's escort, Lodge started out to be a truth squad, monitoring the premier's every misstatement—and they were legion. But the stiff escort ended up as a combination of an English nannie and a straight man.

Khrushchev first scared the Eisenhower administration by a threat to turn in his travel suit and go home; orders promptly came to shelter this sensitive visitor from guests. Then Khrushchev turned on the charm. By the time he reached Des Moines, jests about "my capitalist" — Lodge — were staple fare of every public appearance, nor were the jests always kind.

One other impression of the tumultuous Khrushchev tour stands out: he really wants to end the cold war. Repeatedly he betrayed how much it had hampered and irked him. It is hard to believe that a man who has shown so much brains, dedicated and emotional though he is, can believe he will be able to end that war strictly on his own terms.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

O, Christ, Forget Not Them Who Stand

O Christ, forget not them who stand.
  Thy vanguard in the distant land;
In flood, in flame, in dark, in dread,
  Sustain, we pray, each lifted head.
Thine is the work they strive to do,
  Their foes so many, they so few;
Be with Thine own, Thy loved who stand,
  Christ's vanguard, in the storm-swept land.

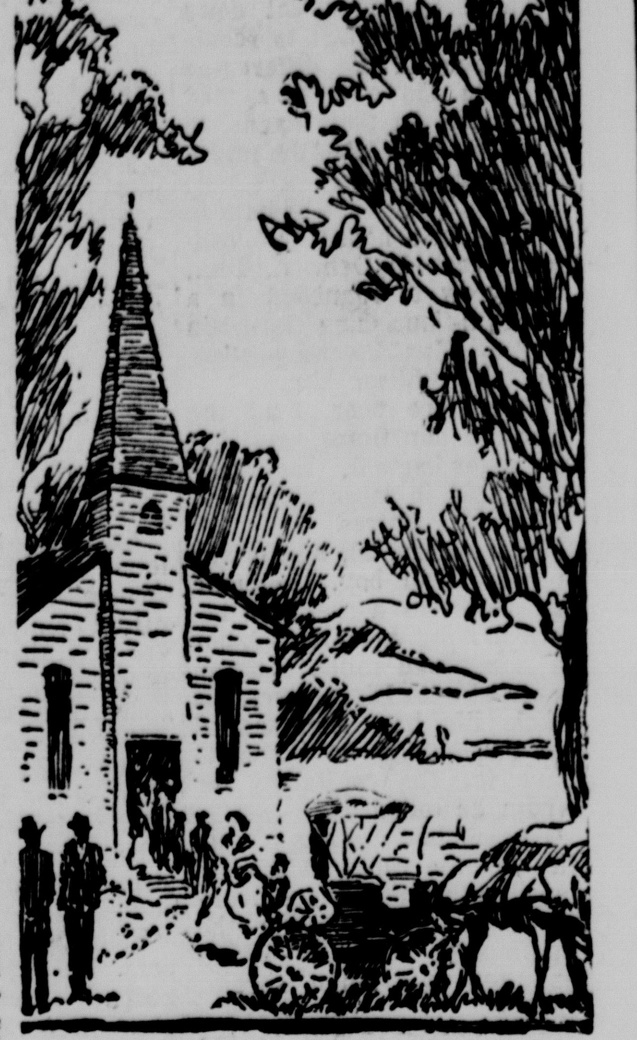
★

By HORACE B. POWELL



This simple hymn, written by Mrs. Margaret E. Sangster, a gifted nineteenth century writer and hymnist, is a prayer for divine protection for the men and women who are serving the church in distant and dangerous foreign mission fields.

Mrs. Sangster was born in New Rochelle, New York, of Scotch-Irish parentage in 1838. Her granddaughter has given these facts about her life:

"Her church affiliations were always close but the denomination was not always the same. Grandmother usually joined the church that she most liked in the town in which she, at the moment, resided, but she was an active member and worker in any church that held her letter. At the time of her death (in 1912) she was a member of the Congregational Church. Before that she had been a member of the Dutch Reformed Church.

The hymn-tune, known as "Missionary Chant", was composed earlier by Heinrich Christopher Zeuner who came to America and to Boston from Saxony in 1824. He became a friend of Lowell Mason, the composer, and was a widely known musician and organist. His "Missionary Chant" is used for several other hymns in addition to this one of Mrs. Sangster's.

PHYLLIS BATTELLE

Now, Middle Age Before Thirty

NEW YORK — Feeling young and perky today, deluded reader?

Then turn the page. Quickly. This column will put gray in your hair and cavities in your ego.

A Ph.D. from the University of Illinois, T. K. Cureton, has just announced that you are "middle-aged" at 26!

His research for the physical fitness laboratory of the university reveals:

"For both men and women, physical fitness improves steadily for a number of years after birth. Throughout youth we grow stronger. Then, at about 17 for boys, and 14 for girls, we hit our physical peak — though few people realize their full potential because of improper or non-existent training methods.

"We stay at this physical peak until 25. Then middle-age begins."

This horrid new theory could be compared unfavorably with a statement given this column a few years ago by a famous Austrian dermatologist. He said, "it is at the age of 29 that a woman begins a slow withering toward old age.

"Before 29, unless she abuses her health abnormally, her beauty continues to flourish and increases. She does not even need creams to keep her skin glowing, if she eats properly and sleeps normally. But after her 29th birthday, nothing can keep her skin young but careful, continuous care."

☆ ☆ ☆

I was just 29, when, during an interview, I heard this morbid prophecy. Naturally, I bought a full supply of this doctor's creams in an all-out effort to preserve the schoolgirl glow—but somehow I never looked more haggard.

All mental, of course; knowing I was doomed to fade made my eyes run in circles and put a frustrated sag in my chin region.

Finally I remembered the old maxim (Hope Hampton's law), "You are only as old as you feel." I started to Think Young and it made all the difference; with a ticket for speeding and a broken toe from trying to tango in stocking feet, one is too engrossed to worry.

Thus, as an eldely woman who has lived, allow me to offer this advice to the new middle-aged generation of 26:

Men—Do not let them retire you even though your physical usefulness is waning. Keep active. Remember that some Americans didn't make their first million till they were well on, in their 30's.

Women — Be philosophical and recall Marlene Dietrich wasn't built in a day. Relax. If you push your buttons right, you can wither wonderfully.

☆ ☆ ☆

A note today from the USO, regarding an overseas survey of our servicemen—all of whom are "past their peak," according to Dr. Cureton, but still making out.

For Christmas this year, these "men who don't have everything" want the following presents, in the following order.

1—Photographs of family and sweethearts; 2—More mail from home; 3—Subscriptions to home town newspapers; 4—Home-made (not store-purchased) cookies and cakes; 5—Subscriptions to men's magazines; 6—Money orders, and 7—Telephone calls.

The 1,500,000 servicemen based in overseas places stressed that they do not want anything that can be purchased at PX's or ships' stores.

These would include watches, cameras, film, records, cigarettes, tobaccos, and "store bought" sweets.

It seems that the farther a guy gets from home, the hungrier he is for love instead of luxuries.

New Hope

Lincoln, Neb.

In equating the East and the West, there is a common factor of highest importance that should finally resolve all the others. The side that serves its people best wins the contest. Both sides agree on the final objective. Therefore, we have hope.

If we had to force the Russians to become Christians or they had to force us to become atheists, we had just as well let the hydrogen bombs fly at the very start. There is more hope in the meeting of Garst and Khrushchev than in the meeting of Ike and Khrushchev. After all, corn-growing and hog-fattening are more important matters than even Marx or Jefferson.

If we can only keep the religionists out of this, we have great hope for survival. Education, technology Science — what a wonderful battlefield where both sides can win! Christendom and Islamism fought for 400 years and both sides got meaner and poorer all the time. But we have a real basis for understanding in corn fields and hog pens. Who would think the world could have moved so fast and well in so short a time.

Dry your tears brethren.

There is a lively hope for a better future.

Fundamental Rights

Lincoln, Neb.

I have been hearing that the rights prepared and published in the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America have been taken away from the people of America.

In Article I of the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, there appears the first subject of the First Amendment.

Subject No. 1 — Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion of prohibiting the free exercise thereof.

Subject No. 2 — Congress shall make no law abridging the freedom of speech or of the press.

Subject No. 3 — Congress shall make no law abridging the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

I believe that this letter shows the true intention of the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America and that in no wise can these rights be denied the people of the United States.

Advisory Group To Study By-Pass

The State Highway Advisory Commission meets here Monday.

Among the items of unfinished business before the commission is the proposed by-pass of U.S. 26 around Scottsbluff.

The proposed by-pass involves also the relocating of the highway between Minatare and Scottsbluff so it will not pass through the Scottsbluff business district.

The commission held a hearing in July at Scottsbluff and the proposal brought stiff opposition from the area. Action has been deferred pending the receipt of more information from the State Highway Department.

The commission also has the task before it of naming a new secretary to replace Owen Boyles who died this summer.

Three delegations are scheduled to appear before the commission concerning relocation projects of U.S. 30 from North Platte east; U.S. 34 from Haigler west; and Neb. 89 from Lebanon to Danbury.

3 More Killed On Nebraska Highways

Murray Woman, 2 Children Victims Of Separate Crashes

Highway accidents in Nebraska have claimed 3 more lives, including two children. The deaths bring the state's 1959 toll to 244, compared to 235 at this time last year.

The latest victims:

Mrs. Naomi F. Johnson, 56, Murray.

Lori Temple, 3, Emerson.

Connie Grimm, 12, South Sioux City.

Mrs. Johnson was fatally injured Friday when her car struck a soft shoulder on State Highway 1, 10 miles west of Murray, and careened into a tree.

Cass County Sheriff Tom Solomon said Mrs. Johnson was delivering a lunch to her husband, Robert Johnson, at the quarries near Weeping Water at the time of the accident.

She was taken to a Nebraska City hospital where she died shortly afterwards. She suffered chest injuries, cuts and bruises.

Fell Out Of Truck

The Emerson child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Temple, fell out of a truck driven by her grandfather at Dakota City.

Sheriff Burch Orr of South Sioux City said the grandfather, Tony Temple, was driving a truck owned by the Wayne, Neb., Rendering Co. at the time of the accident. Orr said it appeared that the rear wheels of the truck passed over the child. She was dead of a crushed chest on arrival at a Sioux City hospital.

In a delayed report received by the State Accident Records Bureau, it was revealed that Connie Grimm was fatally injured Aug. 23 in a car-truck collision at a county road intersection two miles west and one mile south of South Sioux City.

Time At Hand For Thinking, Action—Seaton

Sioux City (AP) — "If there ever was a time for clear thinking and forceful action, that time is now," Secretary of the Interior Fred E. Seaton said Friday afternoon in an appraisal of the cold war.

The thinking and action recommended by the secretary referred to the policies of the Eisenhower administration.

"We must compete with vigor and be strong spiritually, economically, and militarily and seek to negotiate wisely for peace with honor and justice," Seaton said in a speech delivered at the Iowa Conservation Day and Plowing Matches.

Hopes For Progress

He was asked in a news conference Friday morning about the talks between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev this weekend at Camp David, Md. He said he had no crystal ball, but he hoped progress would be made for the whole world.

Referring to agriculture he said that Democrats claim there is a way to solve the agricultural problem.

"I would like to see someone come forward with something," he said. "Farmers can't eat words."

He justified military spending by saying that only by being militarily prepared ourselves can we prevent Communist expansion.

He justified mutual aid to foreign nations by saying the United States could not be an island of abundance surrounded by a sea of poverty and enjoy security.

At a breakfast Friday morning Seaton was introduced by Republican Congressman Charles Hoeven who called him a possible Republican candidate for the vice presidency in 1960.

"I'm devoutly running for home in 1960," Seaton replied.

Senator Curtis Will Definitely Be Candidate For Re-Election

Minden, Neb. (AP)—Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) of Minden says it may be several months before he actually files for re-election but he will definitely be a candidate.

Curtis, completing his first term in the Senate, was back in his home town this week for a brief vacation before beginning a tour of the state during the Congressional recess.

Curtis had no comment on speculation that Gov. Ralph Brooks may seek the Democratic nomination to the Senate, possibly ending up as Curtis' opponent in the 1960 general election. But Curtis said he had not heard of any other Republicans considering trying for the Senate job.

He reaffirmed previous statements that he expects organized labor "to expend both effort and large sums of money" in an effort to defeat him.

Asked to specify which labor leaders would likely spark this campaign he named James Hoffa, president of the Teamsters' Union and Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers.

"We cannot match their money," Sen. Curtis said. "But we will stand on our record and expose the outsiders." Curtis is a member of the Senate labor rackets subcommittee which has been investigating charges of graft and corruption in labor unions.

Praises Thone

Commenting on Republican affairs in Nebraska Curtis said:

"I think the Republicans, following their setback in 1958, are primed for the forthcoming election. The state party was discouraged after a number of setbacks in the last general election. However, the defeat served to arouse Republicans and make them determined to win."

Curtis said he believes Charles Thone, the newly named state chairman will make an excellent leader. He described Thone as "well known, energetic, a man with his heart in his work and well qualified by past experience."

2nd Diphtheria Case Reported

Omaha (AP)—The city-county health department reported Friday that the illness of a 7-year-old east Omaha boy has been diagnosed as diphtheria. His is the second case in the area. A 4-year-old girl died in August.

The 7-year-old boy was reported in satisfactory condition at Children's Hospital. He had not been immunized.

Aviation Pioneers Get Charter Tonight

By Betty Person

There are a lot of Nebraskans who pioneered in aviation and who believe it is well worthwhile to preserve the memories of those early days when man's defiance of the laws of gravity was still rather a novelty.

A novelty it may have been to the spectators, but it was serious business to those men who made up this nation's first military air force, and it was both serious and fun in the years following World War I when great strides were made in the aviation industry.

The motor which powered those early planes and which has become a symbol of pioneer airmen was the OX5 machine—it was the motor which carried most planes into the air through the early 1930's.

The OX5 was the name adopted in 1955 for a national organization made up of early birds in the aviation field, and the Nebraska chapter of the OX5 Club will get its charter Saturday night.

Meeting at the Birchwood Club in Omaha will be a group of Nebraska aviation pioneers who first joined forces last June to organize the state chapter.

The initial group is hopeful that their numbers will grow as other Nebraskans learn of their organization, and any who can attend are invited to join them Saturday at the Birchwood Club.

Lincolnites

Among those who will be present Saturday are Lincoln attorney Max Kier and Lincoln businessman Bill Kite—both of whom are well-known in aviation circles.

Reflecting upon the OX5 machine in comparison with today's supersonic jet-powered planes, Kier commented, "We had to fly those things before we could fly today. It's like the old saying: you have to learn to crawl before you can walk, and you have to walk before you can run."

Both Kier and Kite agree that formation of this club is a "wonderful way to keep alive the pioneer spirit of aviation," and they join in the hope that many more of their friends will be with them in the Nebraska Chapter of the OX5 Club.

Ash Clouds

Quito, Ecuador (AP)—Clouds of volcanic ash fell on Guayas and Azuay provinces in southern Ecuador. Sangay volcano in the remot eastern Andes of Ecuador was believed to be in violent eruption again.

GAS PIPE LINE BLAST KILLS ONE

Yardley, Pa. (AP) — A gas pipe line blew out with the force of a supersonic jet, killing one man and critically injuring another.

The gas roared out with a deafening blast for more than an hour in a field in nearby upper Makefield township.

The two men at the scene of the explosion were repairmen for the owner of the pipe line, Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp.

The steady roar of escaping gas was interrupted occasionally by loud thumping booms that were heard for miles around the Delaware Valley country side. Pipe line officials said gas service was not affected by the break.

SOVIET TEACHERS HAVE SAME PROBLEM:

Subject Vs. Methods Plagues Russians Too

Washington (AP) — American and Russian educators, it seems have at least one problem in common: is it more important for a teacher to know What to teach, or How to teach?

A debate over subject matter versus methods has been raging in this country for years. And Vyacheslav P. Yelyutin, Russian minister of higher education and secondary specialized education, acknowledged it's an issue in Russia, too.

Yelyutin, who has been touring the country with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, is a subject matter disciple.

"A teacher must know his subject very well," he told a news conference. "If he knows his stuff, and loves his children, his heart will tell him how to teach."

But the minister said his colleagues sometimes differ with him, and Russia is seeking a middle-of-the-road course. Similar efforts are being made in this country.

Yelyutin said he was impressed with the lively and gay student bodies in this country and with the dedication that U.S. teachers have in their work. He also was impressed, he said, with the extensive laboratories and other facilities he has seen in some U.S. universities and colleges.

The Soviet minister said it wouldn't be seemly for a guest to speak of things he didn't like in this country, but he was surprised at how little American students know about Russia.

"I asked the students about Pushkin (a famous Russian poet) and they didn't know who he was. On the other hand, it would be very difficult to find anyone in Russia who didn't know about Jack London."

He mentioned Edgar Allen Poe, Theodore Dreiser, John Steinbeck and Ernest Hemingway as other authors well known in the Soviet Union.

Yelyutin said he thought the educational exchange started last year between Russia and the United States had been most successful, and he thought it would be continued and expanded.

Russian students, he said, are free to choose their own university or college, and free to take any subject. However, if there are too many applicants for one school, or one course, preference is given to those who have spent two years working before going on to college.

Despite the Russian emphasis on science, Yelyutin said, journalism is the field attracting the most applicants.

Shipworkers, Miners Give Their Support

...To De Gaulle

Dunkerque, France (AP)—President De Gaulle talked with miners and shipyard workers of northern France to test reaction to his peace plan for Algeria. He got a strong pledge of support.

Even in largely Communist areas of the northern French coal fields, De Gaulle won cheers when he said again the Algerians must decide their future by their own free choice and the French at home must endorse Algeria's decision.

As the second day of his 4-day tour of the north passed, De Gaulle seemed to take new heart from the warm reception he received. He spoke with greater emphasis and increasing conviction at each succeeding town.

CHURCH CENSUS READIED

State Bar Asks Court Judgment

The Nebraska Bar Assn. has asked the State Supreme Court to make a judgment against Paul Mathew, Loup City attorney named in a federal court case.

The attorney said Mathew pleaded no contest on Jan. 22 to a charge of transporting a woman from Omaha to Denver "for the purpose of prostitution and debauchery and for other immoral purposes."

The plea was made in the U.S. District Court for Nebraska, the motion said.

Osteopathic Practice Said Limited By State Legislation

By Virgil Falloon

Osteopathic practice in Nebraska and 12 other states is limited by legislation and consequently these states fail to attract new graduates.

This was pointed out by Dr. E. C. Golbirsch of Little Falls, Minn., as Friday banquet speaker before the Nebraska Osteopathic Association's 60th annual convention.

Nebraska, Minnesota, and Montanna are the only states in the Midwest that have not adopted legislation giving full practice rights, he said.

Kansas and Illinois most recently adopted adequate legislation for osteopathy, he said.

Only 3%

Only 3% of the 13,000 doctors of osteopathy practice in these limited states, he said. The federal government does not differentiate.

Approximately 35 NOA members were registered for the two-day convention which ends Saturday.

Dr. F. A. Purtzer of Scottsbluff was elected the new president of the state association. Other officers are Dr. A. G. Zuspan, Aurora, vice president, and Robert Downing, Superior, executive secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Purtzer succeeds Dr. Ezra N. Ingham of Beatrice as president.

Neglected Field

During the afternoon session, Dr. John M. Woods of the Kansas City College of Osteopathy and Surgery faculty said rehabilitation of stroke victims represents a field neglected by public and medical health professions.

He said recent work has demonstrated that many persons suffering strokes can be rehabilitated to self-care and a large percentage to some gainful employment.

He explained the general procedure was the use of electrical stimulation to reawaken in the patient those muscles affected by the stroke and then get the patient to voluntarily perform these movements.

MOST POLIO DANGER IS NOW PAST

. . . After 29 Cases

The most dangerous season for polio is over in Lincoln, a polio official reported Friday. The latest polio case here was reported Sept. 4.

Morris Siegel, president of the Lancaster County chapter of the National Foundation, recapped the summer polio season: 30 reported cases; 29 actual cases; one death.

Of the cases so far this year, 13 persons had no Salk vaccine shots, one had one shot, 7 had two shots, 6 had 3 shots, and 3 had 4 shots.

Little Paralysis

Effectiveness of the Salk shots was evidencd by the fact that the majority of the polio victims this year had no paralysis after recovery, Siegel said.

None of this season's cases are now hospitalized in Lincoln, Siegel reported, but some of the cases from the Lincoln Air Force Base have been transferred from local hospitals to Veterans Administration hospitals here and elsewhere.

Siegel added that "we could easily have more polio in Lincon, but we are hoping we will not."

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last week I wrote a long letter to my girlfriend and asked my mother to mail it for me. I know my mother read it because she's been asking me about a lot of things I mentioned in the letter.

The things I wrote in the letter were not true. I know it was wrong to make up things, but my girlfriend writes about the places she goes and the good time she is having and I wanted her to think I was doing those things, too.

Now I'm afraid my mother will never believe a word I say. How can I heal my guilty conscience and get my mother to trust me again? I am 15.

TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: Everyone makes mistakes. This is a part of learning and growing up. Tell your mother you realize how wrong you were in lying to your girlfriend, and that from now on you will stick to the truth. Your mother will have even greater confidence in you. For it takes a truly good and honest person to confess a wrong and resolve to do better.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who is so stubborn he walks away when you try to tell him something for his own good?

He has a bad back but he won't go to a doctor. He takes his pillow and sleeps on the floor. He claims he doesn't get a wink of sleep unless he is on the floor.

I am through fighting with him. I have even taken my pillow and tried to sleep on the floor with him, but he sends me back to bed. Don't you think he should see a doctor? He is only 31 and our marriage is nothing already.

LONESOME WIFE

DEAR LONESOME: Of course he should see a doctor! Possibly all that stands between you and a good marriage is a firmer mattress, a bed board or a few treatments. Don't get off your husband's back until he has tried to find out what's wrong with it!

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I were invited to a dinner party. My sister is one of those people who always has to have a cigarette in her hand, so she burned a hole in the hostess' tablecloth.

She apologized all over the place. The hostess took it good-naturedly, saying, "It was a very old cloth."

I took it to mean it was a "valuable old" cloth, and my sister said the hostess meant it was just a "worn-out old cloth."

On the way home my sister and I had some words about it. I said she should have offered to replace it. She said it wasn't necessary. Who was "right?" OLDER SISTER

DEAR SISTER: You were. Your sister should have offered to replace the cloth. A little note of apology or flowers the following morning would have been a nice gesture, also.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

A bride-elect of early October, Miss Linda Harm, has been busy with prenuptial courtesies in recent days.

Mrs. John Coover paid prenuptial courtesy to Miss Harm when she was hostess at a dessert luncheon and miscellaneous shower at her home, and a miscellaneous shower was the feature of the evening when a group of former high school friends and their mothers, were hostesses. Town Talk —It goes without saying that there will be no football activity around town today since the Cornhuskers play Minnesota—at Minnesota — No excitement either, unless we win, that is.

But Saturday without a home game is not a total loss—We found that Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell will be host and hostess on Saturday evening when they entertain the members of their dinner club. The party, however, will be in Omaha—at the home of Mrs. Campbell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Donarico.

* * *

—Since this actually is a football week end around and about, let's turn the calendar back to last week's game. If you were in the stands you may have noticed a Texas flag, held aloft by a group of Texas-songs singing cowboys. The flag, the cowboy hats and the songs were a well planned snare and delusion. The "Texas cowboys" sent to Texas for the flag—sent to the University of Texas for some of the university's songs, and bought their own cowboy finery. The deception was detected when the men weren't quite sure of the words of "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You." Closer scrutiny brought to view Jerry Hall, Tyler Gaines, Herb Davis, Al Berger, just to name a few—all from Omaha.

* * *

—When Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Cadwallader entertained at a family dinner on Thursday evening at the University Club, the party was a "welcome home" for their grandson, Gary Cadwallader, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ned Cadwallader, who is just home from a motorcycle trip through Europe.

Early in the summer Mr. Cadwallader and Kurt Nelson, track coach at the high school in Windham, Minn., left for Europe where they bought motorcycles upon which they traveled through England, Scotland, France, Germany, Italy and Spain. At the end of their tour they sold the motorcycles—and returned home in comfort.

* * *

—Understand that a new Kappa Kappa Gamma legacy arrived at Lincoln General Hospital on Wednesday, Sept. 23 — The young Miss Frech is still without a first name, but her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frech of Wichita, Kan., and her mother is the former Marcia Mahn, daughter of Mrs. Clarence T. Mahn—and Kappa Kappa Gamma at Nebraska. Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Frech are the paternal grandparents.

CLUBS

Planning a get-acquainted tea on Sunday are the University of Nebraska LAW WIVES who will entertain between the hours of 3:30 o'clock and 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Edmund O. Belsheim.

SE DASHES BY HASTINGS, 19-13

Long Knight Tallies Gain Early Edge

Lincoln Star Special

Hastings — Lincoln Southeast struck via long runs here Friday night while grinding out a 19-13 decision over Hastings in a Mid-East Conference game.

The Capital Citians rolled to a 19-7 edge midway through the 3rd period before Hastings staged a late comeback.

3 Score

Quarterback Jeff Roberts and halfbacks Dennie Puelz and Don Brunk scored Southeast's touchdowns.

Roberts worked loose around his own right end with 10:33 left in the half to break the scoring ice from 57 yards out. The conversion attempt was blocked.

Hastings then got its only lead of the game, 7-6 margin gained when Dick Kay skirted end for 1 yard and the touchdown.

His run climaxed a 40-yard Tiger drive originated by Darrel Olson's recovery of Jim Levy's fumble.

Curtis ran the option to the 28, then pitched 8 yards to end Ray Moore. May sprinted 19 yards to the one before scoring.

Curtis' pass to Sam Hoagland lifted Hastings to a 7-6 lead.

The lead lasted for one play following the kickoff. Levy—on a running pass play—found Puelz in the open, hit him at the Hastings 30, and the scatback went all the way.

Levy's boot made it 13-7 at halftime.

Brunk Races

Brunk upped Southeast's lead to 19-7 with 4:19 left in the 3rd stanza when he picked off one of Curtis' aerials and romped 45 yards into the end zone.

Unperturbed, Curtis opened up again with pitches to Moore and Larry Uhrmacher good for 17 and 22 yards respectively.

Uhrmacher climaxed the 69-yard Tiger drive with a 22-yard run around end.

Hastings drove to Southeast's 12 with the potential tying touchdown early in the 4th period but lost the bid on downs.

The defeat was Hastings' 3rd in a row for the young season. Southeast owns a 2-1 mark.

The Rockets were hampered all evening by fumbles as they bobbled the ball on 4 occasions and Grand Island recovered 3 of them.

Ron Peet was the outstanding offensive threat of the Rockets as he picked up 116 yards rushing.

The Rocket defense was extremely tight, especially in the first half as the Islanders could penetrate Rocket soil only once and on that occasion they only got to the 49 yard line. Seven of Grand Island's 10 first downs came in the second half.

Northeast won the battle of statistics as they held an edge in all departments but the scoring column. They held an 11-10 first down edge, a 145-142 rushing edge and 26-3 advantage in passing yardage.

Platter Fumbles Help LHS, 38-6

Lincoln Star Special

North Platte — Three North Platte fumbles kindled the fire in the Lincoln High steamroller Friday night as the Capital City eleven rolled to a 38-6 victory on Bulldog soil.

Lincoln spotted the Westerners a first period touchdown by Doug Glascock which was set up by a 30-yard Mike Johnson to Ron Ruff pass to the one.

In the second period the platters lost the glue off their fingers. Basyl Hulewicz curled around the first Bulldog fumble deep in North Platte territory. Howie Strain immediately carried the ball to paydirt, but the effort was nullified by a clipping penalty.

Three plays later Gregg Ortiz hit Jim Dermyer in the end zone, and the score counted.

A few minutes later the Links pounced on another muffed ball near midfield.

Sammy Zollicoffer scooted 34 yards to the Bulldog 13. After two plays and a penalty, Strain slanted to the left and scored from 15 yards out making it 12-6 at halftime.

It was the same story after intermission. End Jim Dickerson grabbed a fumble on the North Platte 35.

It was Zollicoffer for 9, Strain for 8, Zolly again for 9, and Strain for 9 and the TD.

Zollicoffer started things going in the 19-point final period with a 6-yard scoring run after a 40-yard punt return by Gary Powell and a 15-yard jaunt by Bobby Williams.

Strain Hits Haas

Strain then loosened his pitching arm as the Bulldog secondary began to tire. He hit Gary Haas for two consecutive touchdowns.

The 6-3 junior end grabbed an 18-yard strike in the end zone and scored on a 56-yard pass-run play to close out scoring.

The first Haas marker was set up by a 20-yard interception return by Dickerson.

The Links overpowered the Bulldogs in every department as they rolled up 336 yards for their best offensive output of the season.

Pius Blanked By Falls City

...Smith, Brewer Lead 13-0 Win

Lincoln Star Special

Falls City—Bruce Smith and Fred Brewer, the latter a 245-pounder, sparked an unbending Falls City defense here Friday night that blanked Lincoln Pius X High School 13-0.

The hosts drove for touchdowns in the first and 3rd periods while knocking the visitors from the list of unbeaten Nebraska prep teams.

Falls City's defense was so tough that Pius' touted ground game wound up with a net 134 yards. The Tigers kept their goal line uncrossed for the season.

Falls City drove 87 yards in 7 plays for the winning touchdown in the opening period. The drive was highlighted by halfback Steve Sperry's 35-yard romp up the middle.

Sperry got the final two yards to paydirt, and quarterback Larry Basing converted to make it 7-0.

Relaxed Phils Dump Braves

...6-3 Loss Puts LA One Ahead

Milwaukee (AP) — The relaxed Philadelphia Phillies with last place firmly clinched dropped the Milwaukee Braves one full game behind the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers Friday night with a rain-soaked 6-3 victory.

If this defeat buried Milwaukee, the chief pallbearers in the watery wake were Gene Freese, Jack Meyer and Eddie Bouchee. Freese drove in 4 of the runs, 3 of them with a 3-run homer off loser Lew Burdette in the 3rd inning. Meyer pitched tremendous ball for 5⅔ innings in relief of starter Don Cardwell. Bouchee, a chief tormentor to Milwaukee all season long, drove in the other two runs.

The game was held up once for 14 minutes in the fourth inning and was played in a steady rain from the 5th inning on. Perhaps it was the threat of bad weather that held down the crowd to 24,912.

Both Clubs Hopeful Of Big Improvement

By Don Bryant
(Sports Editor, The Star)

Minneapolis, Minn. — Two football teams with rebuilding problems in their respective conferences will make a progress report here Saturday afternoon when Nebraska and Minnesota square off in a historical intersectional contest at Memorial Stadium.

Game time is 1:30 p.m., and the weatherman says it will be clear to partly cloudy with temperatures in the 70s.

Rain, Fog, Clouds

Rain, interspersed with cloudy and foggy skies, was present on the scene here all day Friday, but sunshine had broken through the overcast by 6 p.m.

Nebraska arrived by plane at 5:30 and took a short workout in the Minnesota field house.

The playing field at Memorial Stadium was covered by tarpaulin the entire day and is expected to be in good shape at kickoff time.

A crowd of 55,000 is expected to be on hand.

Both Hopeful

The two long-standing rivals both are hopeful of better things this fall—Nebraska in the Big 8 Conference, Minnesota in the Big 10 Conference.

Both clubs escaped the 1958 cellars by the barest of margins, one game apiece to be exact.

Nebraska edged Iowa State, 7-6 to finish 6th in the Big 8 (7 teams chased the flag), while Minnesota clobbered Michigan State, 39-12, in the Big 10 game for 9th place.

Likewise, both teams feel they've improved considerably over last season.

Nebraska coach Bill Jennings, starting his 3rd season at NU, saw his troops fall 20-0 to a super-charged Texas team last week. But there were bright spots in the Husker loss, all indicating that Jennings' pre-season optimism about "more speed, more depth and more quality" was justified.

Murray Warmath of Minnesota, heading into his 6th campaign, is blessed with 18 lettermen and some talented sophomores — including his starting quarterback, Sandy Stephens — and visualizes a speedier and more wide open Gopher attack.

Dodgers Take Lead In NL; See Page 14

As always when these two teams meet, Nebraska is the underdog, this time by about two touchdowns.

All told, the Huskers have managed only 5 wins and a pair of ties in 35 meetings with the Golden Gophers.

But some of the happiest moments in Scarlet gridiron history have been cherished upsets over the Swedeland Legion—like the 14-9 victory in 1937 as Coach L. M. (Biff) Jones got off fast, the 6-0 stunner in 1939 when Bob DeFruiter surprised the Gophers, and the 1950 game of race horse which saw All America Bobby Reynolds & Co., outgallop the hosts, 32-26.

Nebraska hopes this year will rest on what appeared to be an improved line against Texas, Quarterback Tom

Minden Ties With Geneva

Stolen Ball TD Brings 13-13 Knot

By Al Beebe

Geneva, Neb.—A stolen ball touchdown in the 3rd period gave high-ranking Minden a 13-13 tie with unbeaten, but unheralded Geneva here Friday night.

Geneva had stunned the Whippetts in the first half, taking a 13-6 intermission lead. Minden opened the 3rd quarter with a long drive which Geneva halted on the 4.

On the next play Minden's Ken Stadler plucked the ball out of the hands of halfback Wayne Willcoxon and darted across the goal for a Minden touchdown. Sammy Somerhalder ran for the tying point.

Geneva outdowned and outoutgained Minden, scoring its first touchdown late in the first period. Willcoxon and Bob Stoldorf led a 58-yard drive, with Stoldorf going the final yard. Quarterback Dick Nelson passed to Willcoxon for the PAT.

Minden got a 71-yard drive going after the TD, capped by Dick Reisinger's 36 yard touchdown run early in the second period. Somerhalder missed on a placement attempt.

Geneva's second TD came late in the half when Nelson passed 15 yards to end Tom Weis, who made a diving catch in the end zone. The play climaxed a 61-yard drive.

The game ended when Geneva failed on a 4th-down pass from the Minden 15 after dominating 4th quarter play. The Wildcats were stopped on the 26 earlier in the period.

Geneva outgained the Whippets in total yardage, 249-221 and had a 14-11 first down edge.

Sports Auto Show Opens Gate Today

Lincoln's first Motor Sports Auto Show opens at 10 a.m. today at the Fairgrounds Coliseum. The show, with nearly 150 entries expected, will be held today and Sunday. Closing time each day is 10 p.m.

The show is sponsored by the Lincoln Timing Assn. and affiliated clubs in the region and is under the direction of L. Wm. Baker, executive director of the Nebraska Motor Sports Assn. Baker also directs the Omaha Motor Sports show in April.

All types of cars will be on display, plus exhibitions by several clubs and commercial sports cars. Over $1000 in trophies will be awarded, public vote will select the most popular car, and a queen is also to be chosen.

Most entries fall into one of two classes—antique and classic; or hot rods and custom-built models. Some of the cars are so "custom" they are completely originally designed by owners who spend hours working on their cars. Meticulous care is taken to spruce the entries for a show.

Experimental models, racing cars, antique fire engines, go-carts and many other kinds of motor sports equipment is included in the mammoth show.

Steen Asks .35 Recreation Levy

A .35 mill levy for parks, historical sites, tourist promotion and the like was recommended in a letter to the legislative study committee on outdoor recreation Friday by M. O. Steen, Game Commission director.

Steen said the money is needed to help solve the biggest problem of the State Game, Forestation and Parks Commission: "How to finance better parks, public hunting and fishing areas, access to streams, lakes and reservoirs; the restoration and preservation of historic sites, and the promotion of tourist trade."

The commission was voted a .13 mill levy, on the assessed valuation of all tangible property in the state, by the 1959 legislature after the commission requested .25 of a mill.

Steen said new surveys show the .25 would have been inadequate.

Steen's letter also recommended legalized mourning dove hunting, tax provisions favorable to timber production, the right of condemnation for state park purposes, and other legislation including fish management authority as "in most cases, our fishery resources are grossly wasted and underdeveloped."

Steen suggested that an "omnibus bill" carry the proposals before the legislature at its 1961 session.

Other recommendations:

—Definition of turkeys as "big game" birds, and provisions for special permits and possibly hunting with rifles.

—Permission to set seasons and bag limits on game in federal forest reserves.

—Permission to set seasons and bag limits and other rules on all fish and game including the mourning dove.

—Place hook and line jurisdiction into the hands of the commission.

—Let pond owners use nets to control overpopulation.

—Allow "emergency" fish removal from waters going dry.

—Reciprocity of laws and fishing licenses with border states on the Missouri River.

Provisions to exempt land, not otherwise used, from taxes while timber is growing under approved practices, with tax payment of increased taxes when the timber is cut.

—New fees for fishing and hunting permits to replace the present "outmoded and unrealistic" fees.

—A retirement plan for commission employes.

—Illness Hits Sooners—

Suspect Virus, Food Poisoning

Chicago (AP)—The sudden illness of a dozen Oklahoma football team members two days before their season's opening game with Northwestern took on an elusive mystery flavor Friday.

Several of the players became violently ill after they finished a fruit salad ordered with their steak dinners in a Chicago night club Thursday night. Possible contamination of the salads first was suspected because of this.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago Board of Health, announced late Friday that samples of the night club food eaten by the athletes had been tested and found "negative as to poison in all respects."

Dr. Bundesen had suggested that the illness might have been caused by flood the players ate before they left their quarters in the hotel where they are staying, the Orrington in Evanston. Or, he said, the illness might have been caused by a virus.

Bundesen said an investigator from his office questioned the stricken players and found that several became ill before they had a chance to eat their salads at the night club and at least one had not even ordered a salad.

A spokesman for the night club, the Chez Paree, said the Oklahoma team members were served from food courses given to other diners.

"We served 300 other diners, and none of them got sick," he said. "many had exactly the same fare—fruit cocktail, soup, tossed salad with choice of dressings, and steak."

The night club spokesman dismissed as impossible a suggestion that gamblers might have doctored food for the Oklahoma table with some form of toxic agent.

Gambling odds on Oklahoma, rated the nation's No. 2 football team, dropped from a 6-point spread to 2 points over Northwestern in their Saturday contest which will be the televised game of the day in broadcasts starting at 1:30 p.m., CST. over the National Broadcasting Co. network.

Over-Confidence Skogman's Worry

. . . As Plainsmen Go Against Wayne

By Paul LeBar

Nebraska Wesleyan Coach Kieth Skogman guarded against over-confidence Friday on the eve of his Plainsmen's Nebraska College Conference debut at Wayne Teachers tonight.

The Lincoln club leaves at 10:30 this morning for the 7:30 clash at Wayne's Memorial Stadium.

Wayne, which owns an 11-9-3 series edge over the Capital Citians, hasn't won since a 19-7 victory in 1955.

Plainsmen Coach Skogman figures that's only part of the incentive working for the charges of Wildcat Coach Gwynn Christensen.

The other part is the disappointing start registered by the northerners.

They lost 14-0 in the opener against Augustana, S.D., then were upset 20-7 by a riled-up Doane 11 last week.

The tilt is important in the NCC standings.

Gaines, Elenga Ready

Coach Skogman indicated Friday two regulars would be ready to start for Wesleyan tonight. Those are right tackle Frank Gaines (200) and left guard John Elenga (180).

Gaines, senior letterman from Ashland, missed the season opener at Kansas Wesleyan last week.

Targets for Wesleyan defenders loom as Wayne left half Clair Casper and quarterback-passer Elmer (Skeeter) Mahler.

Probable Starters

Neb. Wesleyan		Wayne State
Stoehr (180)	RE	(183) Schaulis
Gaines (200)	RT	(210) O'Brien
Davis (170)	RG	(187) Hanel
O'Mara (225)	C	(195) Qualsett
Elenga (180)	LG	(200) Puetz
Wiberg (260)	LT	(200) Kaup
Sell (180)	LE	(175) Tietsort
L. Johnson (175)	QB	(165) Mahler
Faubel (160)	RH	(185) Mitteis
Hofmann (155)	LH	(170) Casper
Seeger (193)	FB	(180) Specht

Line averages—Neb. Wesleyan 199.3; Wayne 192.9.

Backfield averages — Neb. Wesleyan 170.8, Wayne 175.0.

Team averages—Neb. Weslayen 188.9, Wayne 186.4.

Coach Skogman indicated he'd like to employ a little more passing himself. His team rolled up 377 yards on the ground and 24 through the air in a 12-0 conquest of Kansas Wesleyan.

Plainsmen defensive starters include Larry Frahm (175) and Paul Martin (165) at the ends, Dale Zehring (175) and Rod Bartels (210), tackles; Gene Baldwin (205) and Lynn Rexroth (180), guards, plus freshmen Steve Schwaller (195) at defensive center.

Tom Cunningham (150), Milan Phelps (165), Bob Els (165) and Bob Johnson (185) will make up the defensive secondary.

Zehring and Bob Johnson will be Plainsmen co-captains.

Cash's Boner In Ninth Hands Tigers 6-5 Win

Detroit (AP) — A 9th inning boner by First Baseman Norm Cash gave the Detroit Tigers a 6-5 verdict over the Chicago White Sox Friday.

Cash, who had replaced Earl Torgeson a moment before, held onto the ball while Al Kaline slid home with the winning run. The Tigers rallied for 3 runs in the bottom half of the inning after the White Sox took a 5-3 lead with 2 runs in their half.

Torgeson made a wide throw to second base on an attempted force play and his error loaded the bases with one out. Lou Berberet sent a bouncer to second base and Billy Goodman forced the runner at home.

Catcher John Romano's throw to first was too late to get Berberet, but Kaline scored as Cash held the ball.

Giant Election Board For '60 Races Raised

The "big board" which will carry the names of all candidates who must file through the Secretary of State for Nebraska's 1960 elections went up on the wall of Frank Marsh's office.

Since a presidential election year is in the offing, the board has assumed giant proportions to provide the names of not only those candidates, but delegates to the national conventions as well.

One observer noted so much space was needed to list the offices it was doubtful room could be found to name the candidates.

Marsh, who noted they had put up the "biggest board we could find," said he was particularly concerned about where they would record the anticipated long list of candidates to the Republican and Democratic conventions.

Man Decapitated By Blade Of Helicopter

Lovington, Va. (AP)—A whirling helicopter blade cut off the head of King Burl Ferguson, 33, father of 3.

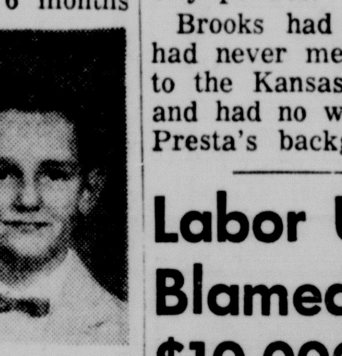
A witnes said the helicopter landed on a special ramp of a plant here to refuel. The motor was cut off, but the big blade continued turning.

Ferguson, a machinist, was crouched on the rear bumper of a fuel truck. Suddenly, the witness said, he stood up to work a valve on the top of the truck.

The blade hit him just above the eyes.

Meet Star Carrier Stanley Quy

Stanley Quy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Quy of Superior, started carrying the Lincoln Star during March of 1959.



Stanley

During the first 6 months he has handled his route, Stanley has done a splendid job of adding to his customer list and has made many new friends with his fine daily service and a courteous manner.

Stanley's new customers have meant a substantial increase in his regular profit and resulted in several fine prizes in recent contests.

He is very active in school activities. A member of the newly-formed Junior High School marching band, Stanley plays the baritone horn. His favorite school subjects are reading and spelling.

Stanley is a Tenderfoot Boy Scout and a member of a town baseball team organized for youngsters in Superior.

He uses a portion of his regular earnings from his route to invest in Savings Bonds. Stanley also buys some of his own clothes and uses a part of his profits for his recreational activities.

Any young man interested in carrying a morning Lincoln Star route in his hometown may receive full information by writing to the State Carrier Department of the Lincoln Star in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Colorado Rites For Lincolnite Killed In Crash

Funeral services and burial will be held in Greeley, Colo., for Donald C. Carlson of Lincoln who was killed in a two-car crash near Cambridge, Neb., late Thursday.

Mr. Carlson, who lived at 4316 Hillside Ave., was 34. He was a former guard at the Nebraska State Penitentiary.

According to officials of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church in Lincoln, Mr. Carlson had lived in Lincoln since last June, moving here from Greeley. Church officials said that Mr. Carlson had relatives in Colorado, and theorized that he may have been going to Colorado for a visit.

Mr. Carlson had been hospitalized at the Lincoln Veterans Hospital since Aug. 18, according to hospital officials, who said that he left Wednesday without being discharged.

Surviving are his wife, Florence; one daughter in California, and a stepdaughter, Sherry at home.

Thone Flays Boyle GOP Vote Blast

. . . Links Brooks, Presta

Omaha (AP) — The statement of Democratic National Committeeman Bernard Boyle of Omaha that Oklahoma is better represented in the Senate than Nebraska drew full fire from Republican State Chairman Charles Thone Friday.

At a Democratic meeting in Omaha Thursday night Boyle said Democratic Sens. Robert Kerr and Mike Monroney of Oklahoma outclassed Republican Sens. Roman Hruska and Carl Curtis of Nebraska.

Thone replied Friday that Boyle's comment laid out the issues for the 1960 senatorial campaign in Nebraska in which Curtis is up for reelection.

Vote Records

The Nebraska party leader said Kerr and Monroney voted against the labor "bill of rights" and for dreamy airport construction, atrocious housing bills and the WPA-type depressed area bills."

Curtis and Hruska, Thone said, voted just the opposite.

Thone was also critical of both Gov. J. Howard Edmondson of Oklahoma and Gov. Ralph G. Brooks, both Democrats.

Edmondson had rapped President Eisenhower's "no new starts" policy on public works in a talk Thursday night.

267 New Starts

Thone replied that in the last 4 years there have been more than 267 new starts in public works bills costing more than $4,600,000,000 and said this is "far from starving the program."

The GOP chairman passed around to Republicans at a luncheon copies of two issues of a Kansas City newspaper. One showed Brooks and Alex Presta arm in arm as Brooks arrived for a party meeting in Kansas City. The other carried a story saying Presta had been described in a grand jury report as a frontman for a criminal element in Kansas City politics.

Brooks had said that he had never met Presta prior to the Kansas City meeting and had no way of knowing Presta's background.

Labor Unions Blamed For $10,000 Blast

Papillion, Neb. (AP)—Arlis A. Nickell, of Lincoln, president of the A-1 Plumbing and Heating Co., said Friday damage to a ditch-digging machine shattered by an explosion Thursday night would run about $10,000.

The blast occurred at the site of a Papillion housing development.

Nickell blamed trouble with two Omaha labor unions for the blast. He said none of his employes on the job is unionized and he had asked the union to supply help but it was unable to do so.

Nickell said union organizers recently have been reaching men on the job and organizers have visited his office in Lincoln complaining about non-union help working at Papillion.

Nickell said any of his employes is free to join a union. He said the only other trouble the company has had has been on a job in Gretna, where emery dust put in the crankcase ruined a ditch-digging machine.

Sarpy County authorities were investigating the blast. Lewis Hauschild Jr., Papillion fire chief, said that evidently dynamite was placed in the crankcase of the machine.

Warren Miller, business agent of the Laborers Union, said his union had not talked with any men on the Papillion job.

"We did talk to Mr. Nickell about organizing his men on the Gretna job but we met with opposition and gave up," he said.

Representatives of the Operating Engineers Union were not available for comment.

New Pledge Training Idea Is Revealed

. . . By Nebraska IFC

The Interfraternity Council at the University of Nebraska has approved the first portion of a new pledge training creed, aimed at "character development and scholastic achievement" for fraternity pledges.

According to George Porter of Lincoln, IFC president, the first phase of the creed "will benefit the fraternity system" by setting up a set of standards "on which the houses can base their programs."

"Adopting and maintaining an adult approach to pledge training will enhance our position in the University and throughout the state," Porter said.

He emphasized that additional parts of the creed will be passed in the next few weeks to give the IFC a complete pledge training guide.

The first portion covers scholarship, personality development and pledgemanship.

Scholarship

"The fraternity shall establish and maintain an atmosphere conducive to scholastic achievement," the IFC document stated. This can be obtained, the creed noted, by establishing quiet hours, tutorial assistance, incentives for scholastic achievement and enforced class attendance.

The personality development phase of the plan calls for "establishing and maintaining a program of personality development." Included in this phase is "insisting on gentlemanly conduct at all times."

The pledgemanship plan, the IFC document continued, requires, among other things, "a thorough knowledge of the University customs and history."

BIG BOOM RATTLES WEST LINCOLNITES

A boom, sounding like an explosion nearby, brought a flurry of calls from residents of West Lincoln Friday but police and Air Force officials assured them that nothing blew up.

Air base officials theorized that the noise probably was caused by a supersonic plane breaking the sound barrier.

U.S. Road Funds Still Unrevealed

. . . For Nebraska

State Engineer R. L. Cochran said Friday he does not expect to learn before the first week in October what Nebraska's federal highway fund allocation will be for fiscal 1960.

It had been indicated earlier that the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads might announce its new formula for Interstate Highway fund allocations late this week.

Cochran said that according to the latest information he had, the allotments would not be known until early October.

Under the current formula, Nebraska would receive six-tenths of one per cent, or $10.8 million of the $1.8 billion approved by Congress for the Interstate Highway Trust Fund.

Nebraska has $47 million in federal Interstate funds which have not been obligated.

Efforts have been made to obtain more than the $10.8 million for this fiscal year, but the Bureau of Roads has not yet determined its new formula for allocation of the monies.

Nebraska Soldier Dies In Crash

. . . In Arizona

Ft. Huachuca, Ariz. (AP)—Mike M. Moreno, 24-year-old soldier from Morrill, Neb., was killed when his car smashed into a bridge abutment and overturned.

The accident happened on State Route 82 about 6 miles west of the fort.

Highway Patrolman Calvin Vance said Moreno apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The officer said Moreno was assigned to Headquarters Co. 6470 at Ft. Huachuca, but his rating was not immediately available.

LAFB MAN IS CHARGED IN KILLING

. . . At Omaha

A Lincoln Air Force Base airman was arraigned on charges of second degree murder Friday in Omaha in connection with the death from stab wounds of an airman from Offutt Air Force Base.

Airman 2C. Ellis R. Conaway, 23, recently returned from a 3-month overseas duty tour, told police he had stabbed the Offutt airman, Samuel McCain, 21, several times after finding him in a car with Conaway's 22-year-old wife early Friday morning.

Conaway's bond was set at $10,000 by Omaha Central Criminal Court Judge James O'Brien. The Lincoln airman did not enter a plea at the arraignment.

Conaway told Omaha police the stabbing occurred during a fight on the Near North Side after he had tried to get into the car in which he found McCain and Conaway's wife, Jeri.

After McCain grappled with him, Conaway said, he pulled a knife and slashed McCain and the car tires, then called for an ambulance.

McCain was dead of abdominal wounds on arrival at an Omaha hospital.

Mrs. Conaway, who told police she had been planning to leave her husband, had been living in Omaha. Conaway had gone to Omaha to find his wife.

11-YEAR-OLD'S GIRL SLASHER TALE IS FALSE

An 11-year-old Lincoln boy who reported to police that he was cut on the arm by a knife-wielding teen-age girl in Bethany has now admitted his story was false, according to Police Det. Merl Hesser.

Hesser reported Friday that the boy and another 11-year-old boy now admit that they were the aggressors in a dispute over the use of the sidewalk and that a scuffle with the girls resulted. The boys now say no knife was used in the scuffle, Hesser said.

Volume continued heavy at 3,280,000 shares compared with 3,480,000 Thursday.

Motors continued the outstanding trading feature, especially the two established makers of compact cars, Studebaker-Packard and American Motors. Each touched new highs.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks edged up 20 cents to $220, thanks to a 70-cent rise of utilities which attracted investment buying after sinking to 1959 lows early this week. The industrial component, however, was down 20 cents and rails fell 30 cents.

The move in the average did not adequately reflect the market of 1,201 issues traded, of which 519 declined and 454 advanced. There were 11 new highs for the year and 48 new lows.

The Dow Jones industrial average inched off .26 to 632.59.

The automotives and chemicals were generally higher while oils, steels, rails, nonferrous metals and building materials were lower.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks rose, four declined and two were unchanged. Avco and Fruehauf Trailer.

Corporate bonds rose in heavy trading. U.S. government bonds continued to recover in quiet dealings.

Bond sales totaled $8,030,000 par value compared with $8,460,000 Thursday.

Bearish Trend Slashes Gains

Chicago (AP) — A variety of influences exerted a bearish pressure on the grain futures market Friday and several contracts slipped into fairly broad losses on the Board of Trade.

Setbacks in wheat ran to a cent a bushel. Corn and soybeans were down major fractions while oats and rye finished in a mixed range.

Stiffest pressure in wheat was against the new crop months following reports that some of the dry areas in the Southwest had received good rainfall.

Reports that corn shipments to major terminals over the weekend would be considerably heavier caused liquidation and short selling of the nearby months.

Exporters quickly covered a sale of 400,000 bushels to Great Britain for shipment during November and December.

The threat of a longshoremen strike along the East and Gulf coasts backed speculative dealers away from the market for the weekend.

Earlier prices for soybean oil and soybean meal and scattered hedge selling more than offset the light soybean demand.

Wheat closed ⅝ cent a bushel lower, December $1.94¾-½; corn ⅛-⅝ lower, December $1.09¾-⅞; oats ⅜ higher to ¼ lower, December 70½-⅝; rye ⅜ lower to ¼ higher, December $1.31¾-⅝; soybeans ¼-¾ lower, November $2.09⅛-2.09.

CHICAGO

A good weekend demand strengthened butcher hog prices as much as 25 cents a hundredweight Friday. The top price went back to $14.25 where it had been all week until Thursday.

The supply of 5,500 head cleared early. It brought the total for the week to 40,000 the same as last week.

The $14.25 peak went for two lots, one grading mixed No. 1 and 2 and weighing 220 lbs., the other grading strictly No. 2 and weighing 210 lbs.

Other offerings in the 190-280 lb. range cleared at $13.65-14.00 and heavier weights upward from $12.00. Sows were $10.25-13.00 and steady.

Slaughter steer and heifer sales were too meager to test the market and no prices were reported. The supply of about 1,200 steers and a few lots of heifers that were carried over from Thursday's market still were unsold.

Vealers were steady, selling at $26.00-32.00 for standard to good grades. Bulls were steady to 50 cents lower and went at $19.50-22.50 for utility and commercial kinds.

Kansas City, Kan. (AP) — A merger of Sterling College and the College of Emporia—Presbyterian colleges in Kansas—has been recommended by a survey committee, it was announced Friday.

Dr. E. Russell Lynn, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church here, said the recommendation will be submitted to the Presbyterian Synod of Kansas at its meeting Oct. 13-15 in Topeka.

The College of Emporia was established in 1882. The school at Sterling was founded in 1887. Each has enrollment of about 400, Dr. Lynn said.

Neutralist Ceylonese Prime Minister Slain

. . . Attacker Garbed As Buddhist Monk

Colombo, Ceylon (Saturday) (AP)—Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike died Saturday from bullet wounds inflicted Friday by an assassin clad in the robes of a Buddhist monk.

The death announcement came after a report that said the prime minister spent a restful night.

Bandaranaike, 60, was struck by 3 .45-caliber bullets in the attack at his private bungalow at Roomead Place, Colombo's most luxurious residential area.

The bullets damaged the Bandaranaike liver, spleen and one arm of the frail British-educated prime minister.

After the shooting, Bandaranaike forgave his attacker and appealed for compassion for "this foolish man."

5 Hours of Surgery

Bandaranaike then underwent 5 hours of corrective surgery, but after the operation a medical bulletin had reported him still gravely ill.

The assassin was shot in one knee by a sentry and captured.

Bandaranaike, a champion of Ceylonese independence from Britain, had led this island nation into the Asian neutral bloc. He took power in April, 1956, on a wave of Sinhalese communalism, Buddhist revivalism and militant hostility to Western ways of living.

Gov. Gen. Sir Oliver Goonetilleke, the representative of Queen Elizabeth II, proclaimed a state of emergency, virtual martial law. He called for "absolute peace and calm" throughout this richly endowed British commonwealth land of 10 million often bickering people.

OPPD Opposes State Commission To Handle Power

Omaha (AP)—Omaha Public Power District President J. M. Harding says the district is opposed to creation of a statewide power commission as proposed by Gov. Ralph Brooks.

Brooks has been critical of the number of power districts in the state and the bickering between them.

Harding said "while the OPPD is not directly involved in any outstate power disagreements we would, of course, be affected by establishment of such a commission. We fear that any such authority would lead to difficulties for OPPD.

"If there are serious differences outstate, it would be our hope that their problems could be resolved by methods other than a state commission."

Team Works To Get Data On Interstate

A 10-man state and federal team is now working along the Platte River between Grand Island and Kearney to establish ground control points for aerial photos which were taken for the Interstate Highway.

The team is made up of seven men from the State Highway Department and three from the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

State Engineer Roy Cochran emphasized the work "has nothing to do with whether we will use one side or the other" of the river for the Interstate Highway.

Deputy State Engineer Henry Schlitt explained the work was being done in a 50-mile strip to establish a network of points so that the horizontal location and elevation of the points is known.

To Get Engineering Data

Its purpose is to develop engineering data, he said. The work will locate and Orient points with points shown on aerial photographs so distance between the points can be measured accurately.

The project will take about three to four months, he said. The U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey team is along to observe that the state methods measure to accuracy standards set by the survey.

After the work is completed it will be published and become part of the survey's permanent records and may be used for many things, such as mapping, Schlitt said.

Brand Renewal Date Announced

Notices will be mailed Oct. 1 to about 18,000 livestock brand owners who must renew them for the next four years, Secretary of State Frank Marsh announced Friday.

Only brand owners whose names begin with letters A through K must renew this year, Marsh said. Owners with names beginning L through Z will be asked to renew brands in 1961.

Marsh said the renewal date was set to start a new phasing time—renewing half 38,000 brands every two years instead of all every four years — in order to increase the efficiency of his office.

Each of the brands must be sketched on records by hand "even in this machine age," Marsh said.

A brand may be allowed to expire if the office receives no response from the owner, Marsh said.

Buenos Aires (AP)—The government-owned telephone company has raised the public call toll from 50 centavos (three-fifths of a cent) to 1 peso (11/5 cents). Public transport services went from 50 centavos to 1 peso per ride earlier this year.

State Exams Set By Merit Council

The State Merit System Council announced Friday that statewide examinations will be given Oct. 24 for positions in the Departments of Health, Public Welfare and Division of Employment Security.

The council said many of the jobs available are in local offices of these agencies scattered throughout the state.

Jobs available include clerical and some technical and professional positions such as case workers and county directors in public welfare.

Examinations will be given at places which are most convenient to applicants.

Applications for the examination must be in the merit system office by Oct. 12.
